BOTANY OF THE HOLIDAYS
2020

Thursday
December 3rd
5:00pm PST
Online

Seasonal festivities bring together traditions, history, family and friends. To a botanist, they are also a case study of the deeply interconnected relationship between nature and culture. Join us for the 4th annual Botany of the Holidays as we travel to China and Brazil to share the botanical origins of some winter holiday traditions, and see just how important plants are to celebrations around the world. This event is free, but space is limited. RSVP at: uclabotanical.eventbrite.com
